Heldt, regent of the Southwas arn University, gave a most isvorable account of the present status and prospects of that institution. He said that the present session opened with 300 students, and that many valuable improvements had been made in the way of increased facilihes. The members of the church were urged to a liberal patronage of the university, as it was their property. Methodists should give preference to a school under the auspices of their own denomiration. The speaker wished the assessments for the university to be continued, and pointed out the necessity for this course. Advocate has been so well conducted, and Houston clubs: the preachers have been so ac ive in their agency, and the hold of the paper upon the good will of the people is such that it has grown steadily; its subscription list at this date being 10 per cent. larger than 2. We endorse the editorial management, and commend the course of the editor during the crises through which the paper has been called to pass. 3. The publishers have shown commendable care and energy in the mechanical work of the paper. They have steadmy improved its appearance, and are pledged to make the improvement keep pace with the subscription list.

. The publishers have found it necessary to reduce the premium paid the agents to 10 per cent. They would be glad to keep the premium at the old figtres, but, as announced at the conferences and in the Advocate at the beginning of the year, this cannot be done without an increase of 3000 subscribers. With proper care on the part of the agents in taking subscribers, the present premium will be sufficient to cover all necessary three base hits-Smith, Kelly, ner, Richardson, Howard.

> From the Stage to the Senate. London Life.

It is rare indeed that actors aspire to Senatorial honors, and Count Lazawshi, who has just entered the Austrian Reichsrath, is surely one of the first actors who has deserted the stage for politics. Count Lazawski, who is of a proud old Bohemian family, was the leading gentleman of Waxshachie, caught fire from a passing of the Innsbruck theater under the stage engine this morning, and was totally name of Neuhof. It is really impossible to sympathize with the condition of mind which leads a man to leave the stage and take up with politics, which are so unprofitable and so weary and so wicked.
